(1) RASS Division Report (Dr. Elizabeth Schuyler, APA)

Dr. Elizabeth Schuyler, Supervisor – Natural Resource Analysis, presented the Resource Analysis & Scientific Services (RASS) report, highlights of which included reflections on the progress, collaboration, and scientific advancement accomplished in 2024 by the RASS team.

- The team was able to complete 460 spatial determinations, 264 wetland site visits (by mostly 3 staff members), 1,246 wetland technical reviews, 74 site visits for engineering and 1,005 engineering technical reviews by a team of two.

- RASS staff worked with GIS to modernize the Agency’s GIS capabilities, integrating advanced mapping tools, remote sensing and data analytics to support sustainable land use and resource protection.
- The RASS team created an ArcGIS map tool to aid staff in identifying areas where solar energy development may be initially suitable by highlighting land cover with high carbon sequestration and storage value. This led o the development of a scientific approach to assess the impacts of forest conversion in the Adirondack Park.
- In 2024 RASS staff participated in numerous conferences, workshops and stakeholder meetings, sharing expertise and learning from partners across the state.
- Looking ahead into 2025, the team remains committed to advancing the Agency’s mission through rigorous scientific analysis, thoughtful policy recommendations, and continued collaboration with partners.

Herbicide Treatment of Invasive Milfoil in the Adirondacks: Assessing Outcomes and Success Metrics (Aaron Ziemann, APA)

Aaron Ziemann, Associate Adirondack Park Project Analyst, Forest Resources, presented an overview of post-treatment reports associated with eight Agency-permitted herbicide treatments to control Eurasian watermilfoil undertaken in 2024.

Getting My Feet Wet: An Internship Mapping Wetlands with the Adirondack Park Agency (Lydia Harvey, 2024 APA Intern)

Lydia Harvey, 2024 APA Intern, presented her master’s project research focusing mapping deep water marshes on six lakes in the Park during the summer of 2024 using GIS technology, boat-based surveys and field data collection. This work provided essential data for the Agency to guide land use planning, monitor ecological changes, and enhancing wetland conservation efforts.

New Business

None

Committee adjourned at approximately 11:50 AM.

The Board returned to Full Agency at approximately 11:51 AM

9. Committee Reports

9.1. Public Awareness and Communication (Mark Hall)

As part of the Community Spotlight series, the committee received a presentation from Town of Waverly Supervisor Ernest Witkowski and Town Historian Cory Haynes.

9.2. Park Ecology (Zoë Smith)

The committee received a RASS division report from supervisor Dr. Elizabeth Schuyler, a presentation on the outcomes of Agency-permitted herbicide treatments of Eurasian watermilfoil undertaken in 2024 from Associate Adirondack Park Project Analyst Aaron Ziemann, and a presentation from former APA intern Lydia Harvey who shared a portion of master's research compiled during her summer internship mapping deep water marshes in six lakes in the Adirondack Park.

10. Interim Reports

The Administration, Economic Affairs, Enforcement, Legal Affairs, Local Government Services, Park Policy and Planning, Park Ecology, Regulatory Programs, and State Lands committees did not meet this month.

G. Delaney followed up on the public comments presented by Supervisors in Hamilton County indicating that the exchange of information between applicants and the Agency is crucial and will increase efficiency of the process on both sides.

11. Member Comment

Dan Wilt noted that he believes the earlier public comments were referring to an emergency communications tower in Hamilton County, not a cell tower.
